BLIND BUY GUIDE · THE PRICE BOOK · NOV 14, 2026

What 162 luxury fragrances actually cost, and how to try each one first.

The lowest sample price for every scent, the best full bottle we could find in US dollars, and whether you could actually buy it. Checked across 27 retailers. No sponsored rankings. No sold-out "deals".

141 of 162 scents have a sample we could price. 28 have a bottle we confirmed in stock. Prices move; every one here was checked Nov 14, 2026.

How to use this

> The rule: never blind buy over $150. Find the scent here, buy the sample, wear it for two full days. If you still want it on day three, buy the bottle from the in-stock shop with the best price per ml.

Reading the bottle column. We show the lowest price per ml among bottles that were in stock. If none were, we show listings where the shop didn't say, and only then a sold-out listing, labelled as such. A price you can't pay isn't a deal; it's a vision board.

The fine print

Prices in US dollars, checked Nov 14, 2026, from retailer pages; we skip prices in other currencies. Samples are decants or brand samples as listed by the retailer. Notes are as listed by retailers and the houses; we never claim to have worn anything. Some links on blindbuyguide.com earn us a commission at no cost to you, and that never changes a price or a verdict. The live, updated version of every row is at blindbuyguide.com.
